Psalm 94

Lyricist: Richard Mant (1824)

Richard St. Clair
(1 July 2024)

Gently but not slow ♩. = 36

Soprano
Alto

1. E - ter - nal Be - ing, Sov - 'ereign God, Ven - geance to Thee be -
2. Turn ye, who stray from sense a - far: To wis - dom, fools, your
3. O, blest the man by Thee re - form'd, And taught thy law, O

Tenor
Bass

7

longs of right; To Thee be - longs th'av - en - ging rod; Beam minds ap - ply, Who fix'd the ear, shall he not hear? Shall Lord, to know! While for thy foes the pit is form'd, He forth with all thy ra - diance bright! Judge of the world, thy he not see, who form'd the eye? Who makes the hea - then rests in peace mid days of woe. For God will ne'er his arm dis - play: Their glor - y - ing to the proud re - pay;

13

19

feel his might, The sin - ner shall not He re - quite?
flock re - ject, Nor fail his cho - sen to pro - tect.

©2024 Richard St. Clair

25
How long, Je - ho - vah; Lord, how long Shall im - pi - ous ty - rants Who gives man know - ledge to at - tain, He knows the thought of
But jus - tice shall re - sume her seat, And all the true of 31
allargando
boast, and swell the ex - ul - ting song?
man, de - ceit - ful all and vain?
heart with joy her sen - tence greet.
Much slower, reverently (♩ = 92)
rit.
A - - - - 37
pp
- - - - - men.